SHERICK IS OUT ON BOND

Ex-Auditor of State Held to Answer Embezzlement Charge.

Many of the Wealthiest and Best Known Men in the State go on $15,000 Bond.

Indianapolis, Sept. 16.—David E. Sherrick, who was Thursday deposed from the office of auditor of state at the instance of Governor Hanly, who alleged that Sherrick was unable to make an accounting for $145,600 of the state's money in his charge, and who was later placed under arrest on a formal charge of embezzlement, gave bond in the police court yesterday afternoon in the sum of $15,000, to await the action of the grand jury. The bond held fifteen signatures, among them being those of some of the wealthiest and best-known men in the state.

Warren Bigler of Wabash, who was appointed by the governor to fill Sherrick's unexpired term of office, entered upon his official duties yesterday afternoon. He retained Sherrick's former deputies. "There will be a thorough investigation in all departments of the auditor's office," said Bigler.

Charles W. Miller, attorney general, following a conference with the governor, said that the business of the state now was to realize on as much of the securities submitted as possible. "We shall proceed to collect the money due the state as soon as it can be done consistently with good business policy," said Mr. Miller. He would not give any estimate as to the probable value of the securities submitted by Sherrick, though it was known that he and the governor made an estimate. It is understood, however, that it is estimated that about $100,000 will be realized from the securities.

Grand Jury Will Act.

The present session of the Marion county grand jury, which was to have ended this week, will be continued through next week for the investigation of the case of David E. Sherrick. The grand jury will also be asked to investigate the charges of forgery in the case of the W. S. Wickard notes," said Charles E. Benedict, prosecuting attorney. "The Wickard matter will come before the grand jury, no matter whether any arrest is made before that time or not. The whole matter will be gone into thoroughly."

Willard S. Wickard, of the J. H. Murry company, indignantly denied the statements made by Governor Hanly that the notes signed by Wickard and given to Sherrick, aggregating $50,000, were forgeries. Gov. Hanly reiterated the statement that his representatives had told him that Wickard had admitted that the signatures were forgeries. Wickard says that he will begin a libel suit against the governor.

Mr. Sherrick's Statement.

Mr. Sherrick is bitter against the action taken by Governor Hanly, because he says the governor has broken faith with him.

"I intend to make a detailed statement of my case to the public immediately, and when I do make that statement it will contain facts that will show that I have been maliciously persecuted by Governor Hanly, and that he is trying to make a grandstand play for his own political ends," he is quoted as saying.

"The fact that I was about to make good every cent that is alleged to be short caused Mr. Hanly to take the action that he did," Mr. Sherrick concluded.

"There is something like a sensation to be sprung, I assure you. All of the state officers who handle state funds were given till Oct. 4 to make their reports. I, of all of them, was singled out and told ... at I must have mine in by Sept. 15. I immediately prepared to get my business straightened up, and had every cent provided for to be collected. Mr. Hanly heard that I was going to be able to make good and closed down on me one day before the time allotted me. Under the circumstances I was unable to meet the demand. I had arranged for the money and told my friends that I would not need it before the 15th. When the order vacating my office was received I could do nothing but accept the order."

"The governor is trying to make a hit, and he is doing it at the expense of a poor fellow man. He knew that I would be able to make good. He knew that if I did make good he could not create the sensation in his favor that he hoped to make. The only thing left for him to do was to pounce down on me in an unfortunate moment and persecute me for his own political gain."

"Mr. Hanly will be shown his mistake, though. I propose to show the public that I am not a black criminal, and I also propose to show that all of this reform movement with the governor is not for the love of law and order, but primarily for his own gain. I will make Hanly eat his words, or force him to put me in a position where the facts will be made known."

Victim of Generosity.

Ex-Auditor of State Sherrick is being pointed to as a victim of his own goodfellowship. He was a bright and shining mark for hundreds of his friends and political grafters, who hung around for crumbs from the financial table over which he was presiding. He was too easy with them to be successful, and it is said that many took advantage of his generosity. It was said of him that he would give a friend the last cent he had or the coat from his back if needs be to accommodate him. His generous characteristics made him a strong candidate when he was nominated three years ago. He swept the convention like a whirlwind, and it is probable that there never was a candidate in recent years in this state in whom such a sentimental interest was taken by the cold-blooded party leaders.

Sherrick was always counted a game loser, but his friends doubt if he will ever rally from the blow that was dealt Thursday. His friends who have taken time to carefully analyze his affairs say that it was unfortunate that he should have been elected to an office where he had access to such a large sum of money. They never for an instant doubted his honesty, but some of them say that his training never accustomed him to handling large sums, which made him easy prey for the men who sought to interest him in their investments.

SEVEN PEOPLE BURNED TO DEATH

A Factory Fire Horror in Avon, Connecticut.

Special to the Republican

Avon, Conn., Sept. 16.—The explosion of a fuse, followed by a fire in a building of the Climax Fuse company here yesterday afternoon, caused a panic among twenty employees in the building and resulted in the death of seven and injuries that doubtless will prove fatal to several others. There was no way of coping with the flames, which soon spread rapidly, and in less than an hour after the explosion occurred those who were unable to escape were in the clutches of a fire that eventually burned their bodies to ashes. The great crowd that collected saw the bodies of men and women roasting in the fire and were powerless to check the flames.

SERVICE TIED UP ON THE I. & C.

Lightning Burns Arresters and Trouble is Encountered Friday Night.

The local division of the I. & C. traction line, had its troubles last night. For several hours service on the Gwynneville-Reedville section was tied up owing to trouble at the Gwynneville sub-station. Lightning, so the traction men say, had partially burned out the lightning arresters at the station and destroyed the circuit.

After six o'clock no cars were sent out of either terminal until 12 o'clock. Five or six cars were tied up on the line at once and came into the terminals. Passengers on some of the cars changed to others to make some progress toward their destinations. Sometimes is required to repair the break at the sub-station.

The cars are running according to schedule today.

FATAL WRECK NEAR KIMMEL

Trains Collide on B. & O. and Two are Killed and Thirty Injured.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Several persons, including Engineer Steve Snyder and a baggage man are reported killed and several others injured in a wreck at 2:15 o'clock this morning at Kimmel, a small station twenty miles west of Garrett, Ind., on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Pasenger train No. 14, out of Chicago, was speeding through the station when it "side-swiped" an engine running light. The locomotive was demolished and the passenger engine, two coaches and two sleepers left the track and piled up in the ditch.

The derailed cars were almost demolished and a scene of horror resulted when they were thrown from the track.

EXPERIMENTING WITH APPARATUS

I & C. Cars May be Equipped With New Controlling Device.

Several representatives of the Westinghouse Electric company were experimenting on the local division of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company yesterday, with new apparatus for that company which consists of trial equipment for the cars, which are run on the single-phase system. The new equipment consists principally of controlling devices. If they are liked, all the cars on the local line will be equipped with them. The men representing the Westinghouse company and who were in charge of the experiments are Mr. Osborn, one of the vice presidents of the company; Mr. Lamme, the engineer in charge of the development of the single-phase system; Mr. Gaylord, in charge of the Chicago office of the company and several others. They were accompanied by A. D. Lundy, of the firm of Sargent & Lundy, of Chicago, engineers for the Indianapolis & Cincinnati company. The new equipment was found to work fairly well.

CONTRACTS CONCELLED

Indiana Reformatory Has Been Changed to a Trade School.

Companies That Employed the Labor of Prisoners Have Retired For That Business.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Sept. 16.—The Indiana reformatory for the first time in its history is now on a trade school basis. The change was effected with the cancellation of the contracts with the Union Carriage and Rattan company and the Indiana Manufacturing company. Henceforth the work done at the institution will be followed systematically and the inmates will be for the present placed in the other departments that have been established. The hollow ware and chain business will be continued, the Indiana Manufacturing company having agreed to take the surplus product.

By the change the state will receive 50 per cent more for the work of the reformatory men than it has in the past. It is figured that the earning will total $100,000 annually under the new system.

The companies agreed to the cancellation of the contracts following a conference with the members of the board of managers. The contracts did not expire till July, 1906, but inducements were made the companies which resulted in the proposition of the board being accepted.

CALLED BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

Investigation Being Made Into Alleged Violations of Liquor Law.

The grand jury, judging from the number of witnesses being examined, is doing a land office business. About thirty witnesses, most of whom were saloon keepers and bar tenders, were examined today. It is said that some very damaging evidence that will result in number of indictments being returned, has been secured. The grand jury is not through with the Bankert case and occasionally some witness is called and asked what he knows concerning the murder. Other alleged law violations are being looked into also.

WAS PRESENTED WITH A MEDAL

Mrs. Virginia Meredith Honored by Survivors of the Nineteenth.

At the camp-fire held Thursday night at Richmond in connection with the fortieth annual reunion of the Nineteenth Indiana Regiment, Mrs. Virginia C. Meredith, of Cambridge City, widow of Sol. Meredith, the first colonel of the regiment, was presented with a medal of iron, made from cannons that were captured by the Nineteenth during the battle of Gettysburg. The medal has five prongs, each of which is indicative of one of the regiments of the Iron brigade.

Three of the prongs represent Wisconsin regiments, and a Michigan regiment, and the other the Nineteenth Indiana. The presentation speech was made by the presiding officer, Robert Patterson, and Mrs. Meredith replied in a few well-chosen words of appreciation.

LIFE INSURANCE MAN MURDERED

Body of G. R. Greswold Found in River at Des Moines Iowa.

Special to the Republican
Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 16th.—That a brutal murder had been committed was discovered here today, when the body of George R. Griswold, State manager of the State Mutual Life Insurance company, was found in a river. The body showed signs of having been badly beaten and mutilated before it was thrown into the water. Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the crime.

A warrant was made out at once for Colscher's arrest, and he was arrested by Sheriff Bainbridge on Main street, near the Rush County bank at 11 o'clock.

He was taken into court, where his bond was fixed at $500. He was unable to give bond and went to jail.

President Zimmerman Admits That System Now Belongs to J. P. Morgan.

"I have reached that age in life where I think it best to leave off. I will step out of the C. H. & D.

"The Great Central System is now controlled by J. P. Morgan & Co. I know nothing as to the future plans they may have."

Thus Eugene Zimmerman, President of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, admitted his retirement from the Presidency, the sale of the immense interests which he and H. B. Hollins & Co. held, the passing of the control to the Morgan crowd and the culmination of as large a railroad transaction as is recorded in the history of the West.

The end of a month's manipulation has resulted in the turning over of Mr. Zimmerman's property with a profit of $1,000,000. This

Aslaskan and Klondike fields have sent $15,000,000 in gold to the United States treasury this year.

Pennsylvania's new child labor law, raising the age at which children may leave school to 14, has caused a 20 per cent increase in school attendance.

The smokers, chewers, snuffers and dippers of the United States consumed 300,000 tons of tobacco last year. The value of the output was about $300,- 000,000.

The time has passed when the press of the State looks to the Indianapolis papers for leadership in matters political especially as far as it concerns the Republican papers. Whatever element of leadership the Indianapolis papers once possessed has disappeared.

Merchants in Cincinnati are confronted by a new condition in the fight against rate discrimination in the South, which is brought about by agitation in New York newspapers.
Commercial papers are demanding that merchants of New York take a hand in the fight in behalf of New York against Cincinnati, Chicago and St.
Louis.

At present Japan and China are buying from the United States at the rate of nearly $150,000,000 a year, and this is expected to largely increase, now that the establishment of peace gives both those countries an opportunity and an incentive to develop their resources and put themselves in a position to profit adequately by their new opportunities.

Governor Hanly has issued a statement to the effect that until the Indianapolis Sentinel ceased to present him in an unfair light he would withhold public information from his office from the reporters of the Sentinel.
The Sentinel, in a card "To the Governor and the People" concludes by saying that "it will obtain the news from Governor Hanly's office whether it be obtained with his approval and permission or without them, to this extent it defies the governor." So now, there is another merry war in progress.

The United States has always held that the Russian tariff discrimination imposed upon American products was based on a misconstruction of treaty law and facts, and our government has constantly protested against the Russian embargo. It has striven to prove to the St. Petersburg authorities that the discriminating duties were unjustified. It has, however, refrained from fomenting a general tariff war, preferring to trust to persuasion and to Russia's amenability to reason for a satisfactory solution. The appeal to reason has finally been successful; for the Czar's representative here, Mr. Witte announces that the retaliatory duties were laid "in consequence of a misunderstanding in the interpretation of the most favored nation clause" of our present commercial treaty, and Russia promises to admit American products at the rates now levied on the products of other countries. This is all the United States asks or has asked. We seek no tariff quarrels with European nations and are ready to give them in our markets equal and impartial treatment. It is gratifying to find our good faith in that respect now freely conceded by a nation which four years ago challenged our tariff policy as grossly prejudiced and unfair.

SAW THE PRIZE PIG

Hoosier Poet and Senior Senator See
State Fair Together.

Indianapolis, Sept. 16.—Senator Beveridge and James Whitcomb Riley "took in" the state fair, Thursday afternoon, and as popular attractions viewed with the blue-ribbon livestock and the prize pumpkin.

The Hoosier poet dropped into the senator's office the other morning and remarked that he "hadn't seen a state fair for he didn't know how long," and at once the two well-known Hoosiers agreed to see one.

"Shall we have somebody with us?"
inquired the senator, to ascertain Mr.
Riley's desire.

"No," replied Mr. Riley. "Let's just sit up all alone, so we can go round and look at the hogs and things."

"That surely suits me, exactly," said the senator.

"Silk hats and frocks?" asked Mr.
Riley, with a smile.

"No, I should say not!" exclaimed
the senator.

"I was hoping not," laughed the poet, and the arrangement was made.
However, the two illustrious Indianaians "ran into" Attorney General Miller, who himself was looking at the hogs, sheep and cattle, and all three prominent Hoosiers made the rounds together, and at the close of the afternoon they declared they had had the best day in many a year.

Gov. Hanly's threat that he intends to "clean house" in the auditor's office has caused much speculation, as many believe that he will conduct an investigation in all offices where any fees are collected. For many years the state officials have been accustomed to lending the funds in their possession between settlement periods. Sherrick is the only one to be caught, but it is said that others have made many investments that would give them embarrassment if the governor or anyone should make an immediate demand for settlement and accounting. Several days ago the governor wrote to Sherrick and other officials demanding a full settlement by Oct. 5 and quarterly settlements thereafter, and in view of the denouement of Sherrick's affairs, it is very likely that they will not hesitate further about giving up the money in their possession. As to the method Governor Hanly will take in "cleaning house" which he says is his program, Warren Bigler said he knew nothing, but he understands that experts will be employed at once to make a careful investigation of the books of the office. It is believed, however, that no discrepancies will be found, as the affairs of the office were carefully looked after by Billheimer and Reed. They had nothing to do with the loaning or investment of the money which was in Sherrick's hands, and they steadily protested against it.

This payment was made after very careful deliberation. It must not be considered an ordinary contribution to the campaign fund. It was paid because we felt that the assets of the New York Life Insurance company would be jeopardized by a Democratic success."

Mr. Perkins said contributions were also made in 1900 and in 1896. As an illustration, witness said the first contribution made was in 1896, by President McCall, who is a Democrat.

"He contributed to the McKinley campaign fund and voted for McKinley because he felt it was in the best interests of the policyholders of his company."

This bomb caused a murmur of conversation about the room, which had become packed with spectators.
Standing room was at a premium, and everyone bent forward to catch the testimony. This was hardly necessary, for Mr. Perkins spoke distinctly in a very audible voice. He paced the small platform upon which the witness chair is placed, just before the committee's rostrum, and accompanied his explanations with earnest gestures, oftentimes suggesting questions to the counsel.

Pursuing the check inquiry further,
Mr. Hughes brought out that this expenditure was never brought to the attention of the finance committee, the witness terming it a "purely executive action." It was charged against cash on the books of the Hanover Bank office or financial department. The witness did not know against what account the other contributions were made, but he would furnish data.

Mr. Perkins here interposed:

"I would like to make one statement.
The fact that the check is drawn to J. P. Morgan & Co. has no significance.
I paid out the money and it was merely because of a convenience of repayment that the check was made payable to J. P. Morgan & Co."

"What other contributions to political campaign funds have been made by the New York Life?"

"None, to my knowledge."

Mr. Hughes asked Mr. Perkins to explain how on the books in the syndicate's action by which $800,000 in bonds was sold on Dec. 31, 1901, and bought back Jan. 2, 1902, there was shown on the debit side of the account $160,000, and on the credit side $800,000, and Mr. Perkins replied:

"I am glad that you brought that matter up. In that transaction we asked for $5,000,000 of bonds and only got $4,000,000. We made up our minds to sell the $800,000 of this sum, and our books therefore only showed $3,- 200,000. When it came to the end of the year, we sold the $800,000, and instead of taking a loss of $160,000, we only took a loss of $80,000. I arranged with J. P. Morgan & Co. to sell it at a price, and then I bought it back at the same price. After rebuying, I held it to it and finally sold it at 90.
Our first idea was to sell at 80, but we finally got 90."

The money was paid by check to
J. P. Morgan & Co.

"Were not the sale and purchase for the purpose of deceiving the commissioner of insurance?"

"No, sir, it was not. Securities were depressed at the time, and it was considered a good deal."

"But the real purpose was to have your books read $3,200,000 instead of $4,000,000."

"Yes."

Senator Armstrong here inquired

Christiania, Sept. 16.—It is semi-officially announced that the military movements now being conducted by the Norwegian government are merely the customary measures for relieving the garrisons of the fortifications and the permanent camps. The tension is greater than ever. All during the day crowds fill the streets in the vicinity of the newspaper offices, eager for news from Karlstad. The fact that the conference has again adjourned is regarded as a good omen, and the feeling of pessimism which has long prevailed is given way to a hope that war will be averted, especially as it is believed here that Norway has the moral support of the government of Great Britain. A strong conviction also prevails that war would not be permitted by the powers. Owing to the stand made by Norway, it is considered that an arbitration treaty will be secured and that a compromise will be arranged regarding Sweden's demand for the demolition of the fortresses. It is expected that the negotiations today will be decisive, and the result is looked forward to with much anxiety.

The excitement at Stockholm and

The Printers' Strike.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Developments in the controversy between the Chicago Typographical union and the master printers indicate that the independent employers will agree to the demands of the union and that the fight will finally simmer down to a struggle with the Chicago Typothetae. It is reported that over 100 independent concerns, employing 1,200 men, had signed the agreement submitted to them demanding an eight-hour day after Jan. 1, 1906, and a closed shop.

Practical Recipes

For the Housewife

the fish, double the quantity of potatoes to the fish; mix well together, wake in balls, with the hands flattening them a little, have your frying pan hot, with a tablespoonful of lard; fry to a nice brown.

TO COOK DRIED BEEF.

Cut in thin slices, place in the spider and pour hot water on it, thicken with a little flour and water stirred smoothy in. Then season with butter, salt, and pepper, boil about 5 minutes, and while boiling break in 1 or 2 eggs and stir all together. Halve and butter some warm biscuits, place in a deep dish and pour the mixture upon them.

MACCARONI AND CHEESE.

Six tablespoons of grated cheese, 1 of flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of cream, 1 tablespoon of butter, 1 egg, salt and pepper; put on the fire and stir until the cheese is dissolved. Boil $\frac{1}{2}$ package macaroni in salted water twenty minutes, have potatoes boiled and chop with drain, cover with milk and boil again. Stir all together and bake till brown.

BLACK CHOCOLATE CAKE.

Two cups of brown sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of butter, 2 eggs, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of sour milk. Beat all together. Grate $\frac{1}{2}$ cake Bakers' chocolate; dissolve 1 even teaspoon of soda in $\frac{1}{2}$ teacup of hot water; stir chocolate into this until dissolved; then put with other 2 heaping cups of flour, 1 teaspoon of vanilla. Bake in two layers and put together with white icing.

THE FINGER NAILS.

How They May Be Manicured Successfully at Home.

For the woman and man who desire to manicure their own nails all that is needed are a nail file, an orange wood stick and a set of nail emerys, which can be bought by the half dozen or by the box. Some nail salve, pink nail powder for polish and a piece of chamois skin are also necessary.

The art of manicuring is not hard to learn, says the Chicago American. You must attend to your fingers every day. Never, never bite your nails. Do not cut the cuticle, for that only makes it grow thicker and ugly.

Manicure the nails in this manner: First dip the hands in a bowl of warm soapy water. Soak them for a few minutes, then wipe them, pushing the cuticle downward instead of upward. Take the little nail emery and carefully file the nails in curves, not pointed. Use the scissors only to cut down in the corners of the nails, but never cut either the curve of the nail or the cuticle.

Push the cuticle down softly with the orange stick. If any little particles adhere to the nail, wrap a small piece of cotton wool upon the orange stick and dip it either in lemon juice or a bleaching fluid and scrape the nail. After filing, scraping and pushing down the cuticle, dip the fingers in the soapy water again. Wipe them dry.

Now comes the polishing. Put on a little of the nail salve and polish each finger separately with the chamois or nail polisher if you have one. Then dip it either in lemon juice or a bleaching fluid and scrape the nail. After filing, scraping and pushing down the cuticle, dip the fingers in the soapy water again. Wipe them dry.

How to Make Cheese Croquettes.

Mix together one cupful of grated breadcrumbs, two cupfuls of grated cheese, half a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of cayenne. Moisten with one well beaten egg to which have been added two tablespoonsfuls of cream; when thoroughly blended shape into small balls, dip in yolk of egg and then in crushed cracker crumbs and fry in hot fat till a golden brown. Serve on triangles of fried hominy with tomato sauce.

How to Frame Pictures.

Colored prints vary their frames with their subjects, but usually have no mats, says Harper's Bazar. Old English hunting scenes, with a preponderance of flashing scarlet, have narrow black frames. Japanese prints either black or brown bamboo with the brown prints. The prints of old Madonnas have dull gold frames, while engravings and etchings have a molding toning in with the brown or black of the print. Photographs are almost invariably framed close, the frames matching the darkest tone of the picture. The artistic framer stains his own frames the exact tone required.

The molding must be as simple as possible in design. The width is governed both by the size of the picture and by the detail in the picture. A landscape scene containing many small figures will admit of a very narrow molding, while a large head demands a broad one. No definite rule can be given. Landscapes are sometimes framed with double glass to bring out the perspective.

How to Make Bay Rum.

Bay rum may be made as follows: Oil of bay (from myrica acris), 240 grains; oil of orange (bigarade), sixteen grains; oil of pimento, sixteen grains; alcohol, one quart; water, twenty-five fluid ounces. Dissolve the oils in the alcohol and add the water. Stir into the liquid about two ounces of precipitated phosphate of lime and filter. It will improve with age.

How to Keep Cheeses.

Edam cheese is best kept on a cool, dry shelf. If one has a buffet in the kitchen it will keep fresh for some time if placed thereon. Cheese dishes with glass or porcelain tops are apt to cause Edam cheese to sweat. Roquefort cheese may be kept out of the window or in a cool closet in a jar, but should first be wrapped in paper tinfoil. Camembert, Gorgonzola and Brie should be treated in the same way, but must be brought in some time before they are to be used, as the cold air will make them too dry to serve immediately. American cheese should be wrapped in several thicknesses of paper and kept on the lower shelf in the refrigerator or in the fresh air food chest.

How to Clean Bird Cages.

To clean brass bird cages wash in cold suds and rub with whitening, then dry and polish with soft flannel. A paste made of rotten stone and turpentine is all that is required for polishing brass that simply needs brightening.

but oxalic acid is the best agent for cleaning brass andirons or candlesticks that have suffered from neglect.

THE STATE OF TRADE

What Bradstreet Has to Say of Current Conditions.

New York, Sept. 16.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Trade and industry continue remarkably active in nearly all lines. Fall distribution is in full swing and in portions of the West is of unprecedented volume. Interior merchants are still greatly in evidence in many primary markets; three-fourths of the corn crop is out of danger of frost; iron and steel are in exceptionally good demand, with outputs heavily sold ahead and prices tending upward and building materials are apparently as active as at any preceding period this year.

Labor seems to be very well employed, though a few strikes, notably in the printing and building trades, disturb the otherwise very quiet appearance of the industrial situation. Collections generally are good for this season of the year, despite the fact that retail trade in the agricultural regions is still retarded by active farming operations. Business being handled by the railways is of large proportions despite the lighter than expected grain movement, due to farmers' indisposition to take current prices for their products. Gross earnings for August were 5 per cent in excess of a year ago.

Sensational Case.

London, Sept. 16.—The Marlborough police court has resumed the trial of Hugh Watt, a former member of parliament, on the charge of attempting to hire a private detective to assist him in murdering his former wife.

The prosecuting counsel presented two witnesses who, he said, would swear that Watt incited them to murder the former Mrs. Watt and her present husband, Sir Reginald Beauchamp.

Order Is Power.

What comfort, what strength, what economy, there is in order—material order, intellectual order, moral order. To know where one is going and what one wishes—is this not order? To keep one's word and one's engagements. Again order: To have everything ready under one's hands, to be able to dispose of all one's forces and to have all one's means of whatever kind under command. Still order: To discipline one's habits, one's efforts, one's wishes, to organize one's life, to distribute one's time, to take the measure of one's duties and make one's rights respected, to employ one's capital and resources, one's talent and one's chances profitably.

Domestic Tragedy at Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Grant Edwards, after having slain his wife and fired a shot into his own head, was shot twice more through the head by his wife's brother with the same revolver that had been used by Edwards. None of the bullets received by Edwards will result fatally. Edwards and his wife had quarreled and separated. The woman's refusal to be reconciled was Edwards's motive.

Situation at Tiflis.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 16.—A private dispatch from Tiflis says that there was firing last night at various points on the Baku district and there were many skirmishes resulting in considerable loss of life. The situation, the dispatch says, is alarming and there is great uneasiness among the Tartars.

Deadly Railway Wreck.

Kimmell, Ind., Sept. 16.—By the wrecking of a Baltimore & Ohio train near this place early this morning the engineer and baggageman were killed and a number of passengers more or less seriously injured.

New Orleans, Sept. 16.—Report on yellow fever conditions to 6 p.m., Friday: New cases, 43; total to date, 2,505; deaths, 2; total, 331; new foul, 6; cases under treatment, 330; cases discharged, 1,844.
